PINOT NOIR 2023 MÉDITERRANÉE

The vineyard is situated 20 Miles Northwest of Porto Vecchio on the East Coast in the Southern region of Corsica, the French Island in the Mediterranean Sea. It is located on the geological fault line separating Southern Corsica and Upper Corsica – each composed of soil schist and granite – this vineyard of 35 Acres is composed of metamorphic rocks foothills. It enjoys exceptional sunshine and a climate tempered by the proximity of the sea and the mountain barrier (of 1,800 Feet of altitude). This soil enables the emblematic grape varietal of the Bourgogne Region to express itself fully by offering unique and original expressions.

Produced by François Labet, owner of Chateau de La Tour and Domaine Pierre Labet, this vibrant, versatile Mediterranean "Burgundy" has personality and value. Francois Labet has a holiday house in Corsica and over the years he fell in love with the rocky, high-altitude terroir. He felt that higher elevated areas of the island would be suitable for growing Pinot Noir, and when the opportunity arose to plant some vines he didn't waste any time leaping at the chance.

Unlike his Burgundies, François Labet fully destems the fruit for this wine and then ages it in tank and one-third French oak before bottling. This makes this Pinot Noir classic and engaging in style, with a Mediterranean earthy twist., delicious to be consumed at an early age, it is wine with a French Pinot Noir personality (dark cherry, inky, floral), Mediterranean (spicy, earthy) and even Moutainous (refreshing, tangy and medium bodied).
